

Dear Senator Lyn Allison,

I work with children in care with high complex needs. It has come to my attention the discrimination against same sex relationships. There is so much to be done in this wonderful country of ours I cannot believe people still are so concerned about people in same sex relationships. Surely in our society we are educated enough to believe if a relationship is loving and healthy that is enough! Is it really our business what people do in privacy? Why when people say 'this is my partner' why we cannot just validate their loving relationship on a personal and legal level. I cannot believe this does not happen!! What ever is the government thinking!!!

I am ashamed of this ignorance! Please do your best to make the necessary changes.
